Summer School

Clad in loafers and bermudas, 712 students sacrificed eight weeks of sunburns and freckles to slave in stuffy classrooms during summer school. The most popular courses included driver's education, with eighteen classes and ten cars; typing; and physical education. Summer school also offered courses in civics, sociology, health, chemistry, biology, social studies, general math, developmental reading, and industrial arts.

In contrast to the six courses that were offered eight years ago in summer school, thirteen courses were offered in the second year of consolidation. The increased popularity was partially due to the fact that bus transportation was furnished from township schools to both North and South Campuses for the first time.

Educational trips highlighted the summer science courses. Biology classes boarded a bus for a two-day excursion to Detroit and Ann Arbor where they visited the Parke-Davis Pharmaceutical Company, the Enrico Fermi Nuclear Power Plant, Ford Motor Company, and the Botanical Gardens.

Girls' and Boys' State

This past summer eight HCCHS juniors participated in the Boys' and Girls' State programs at Indiana University which were sponsored by the American Legion and its Auxiliary. Each of the programs consisted of one week of military training and detailed study of the mechanics of democracy. Representatives were assigned to groups which learned various election procedures. They applied their knowledge by holding mock elections at the end of the week for city, county, and state officials. Various programs, including a speech by an F.B.I. agent, stressed the importance of government.

Foreign Exchange

Red wine, oxtail soup, and warm cokes constituted part of the diet of HCCHS students abroad. Anna Schaefer lived with a Spanish family in Madrid and worked as a lifeguard at the U.S. air base. Sponsored by the E.U.B. Church, John Rogers, Jim Morton, and Charlene Langston toured Europe on a six-weeks camping trip.

Maggie Briceño of Chile, who came second semester under the Youth For Understanding Exchange Program, lived with the Philip Ross family. Also on the YFU Program, Thomas Leber of Germany stayed with the Eugene Kiracofes. In Huntington on the International Christian Youth Exchange, Helga Ragnarsdöttir of Iceland lived at the John Michael home. Upon returning home, Helga planned to work, Tom to finish high school and to study psychology, and Maggie to earn an M.D. in obstetrics.

It's a small world to Tom and Helga as they point out their homes in Germany and Iceland on the globe.

Shakespearean Festival

Groups of HCCHS students spent three days of summer vacation in Stratford, Ontario, where they attended performances of Shakespeare's Richard III, Anthony and Cleopatra, The Merry Wives of Windsor, and Gogol's The Government Inspector. Before performances, they visited a display of stage settings and costumes from previous productions.

Other students learned the intricacies of the English novel at Britain's Exeter University. They took field trips to the storied moors and to the ancient city of Bath, where the Romans built public bathhouses around four medicinal springs. They also visited Shakespeare's home and birthplace and Anne Hathaway's cottage in Stratford-on-Avon.

The test was a part of the department's newly expanded testing system. Also new was an Industrial Day with speakers from various industries around Huntington who spoke to noncollege-bound students. The counselors in the department welcomed suggestions from students on new courses and activities to enlarge the curriculum and extra curricular activities. The counselors also helped students with school problems and personal problems and tried to provide suitable solutions. Other activities of the Guidance Department consisted of scheduling students in classes, maintaining student files, and arranging for students to visit colleges.

Spending hours on drawing layouts, sorting pictures, and writing copy, the DEKA staff tried to accomplish the impossible feat of condensing all the events of the 1967-68 school year into 252 pages. The year began with the move from room 302 to room 218. Although confusion reigned for the first few weeks, things gradually settled into a routine. With the aid of advisor Charles Hayden, the staff set to work. Weeks passed, and at the start of the second semester, 15 juniors joined the staff in preparation for next year. Suddenly it was time for the first deadline! Working well into the night, the staff typed, cropped, wrote and rewrote until the last page was finished and in the mail. Breaks in the routine occurred when the staff threw surprise birthday parties for the editors. As the year ended, the familiar deadline frenzy struck again and irate editors and irate workers battled to finish on time. Finally, the last correction was made, and the staff walked slowly out and closed the door.

challenging youth in agriculture

Future Farmers

Boys interested in agriculture joined the North and South Campus chapters of the Future Farmers of America. Sponsors Jerry Boyer and Rolla Hendrickson planned club activities and accompanied members to district meetings. Some of the year's events included a garden tractor pull at South Campus and a trip to the tri-state Farm Progress Show at Chalmers, Indiana in September. Advisors of the clubs throughout the district attended the meetings of each organization and awarded one club for excellence in the quality of their programs. They also attended a Spring Banquet on May 8 to end the year's events for both chapters. There are four degrees of active FFA membership: Greenhand, Chapter Farmer, State Farmer, and American Farmer. The district awarded these titles on the basis of achievement.

Cross Country

The HCCHS cross country team once again proved themselves superior in their field. Although they suffered severe blows early in the season when top notch runner Allen Myers broke his leg and Senior letterman Larry Holzinger had to sit out with a bad foot, the Vikings went on to post a remarkable 11—0 record, placing second in the conference, getting first in the sectional, and gaining a respectable eighth in the regional. Seven times during the season the harriers had their first five runners in before an opponent crossed the finish line. Three of these seven were against CIC opponents, Wabash, Peru, and Hartford City.

The 1967 harriers established Huntington County Community High School firsts by winning the sectional and going undefeated in dual competition, as they ran their unbeaten string to twenty-three victories in a row over two seasons. The highlight of the regular season came September 7 with the defeat of highly touted Fort Wayne Elmhurst as the Vikings snapped the Trojans' consecutive winning streak at forty-four.

determination replaces size

Varsity Football

Desire and hard work replaced team size as the Huntington County Vikings finished their 1967 grid campaign with a 6—4 record. The Vikes were second in the CIC, stumbling only once in six outings. They launched their season with a 20—6 victory over the DeKalb Barons at Kriegbaum Field but fell to the Tipton Blue Devils in the initial conference game 17—0. It was the first shutout suffered in 23 games.

After an impressive win over Peru, 21—7, the Vikes traveled to Wabash for a crucial game with the Apaches and got the biggest win of the year as they upset Wabash 7—2. They then lost back-to-back games to non-conference opponents. The talented Marion Giants dumped them 27—0 and New Haven dropped the Vikes 27—9.

Many reserves received valuable experience in the 56—0 rout of the Hartford City Airedales, but then the South Side Archers administered the worst defeat Huntington had suffered in many years as they rolled over the Vikes 54—7 at South Side.

Tom Schenkel displayed the greatest individual effort of the year as he led the Vikes to a 27—14 win over the Alexandria Tigers. The Vikings ended their season with a 6—0 win over Elwood in HCCHS' first Homecoming. John Scheiber and Tom Schenkel were named to the first team all-conference. Bob Derr, Earl Williams, and Tim Reahm were named to the second team and honorable mention went to Ernie Bailey and Tom Paoletto. Pete Stambazze was chosen the Elks' most improved player at the annual post-season banquet.

Freshman Football

If the Freshman season is any indication of what is to come in future Viking football seasons, the outlook is good. The Freshman split evenly in six games and all three victories were over conference opponents. The frosh came up with wins over Hartford City 13—7, Wabash 12—7, and Peru 7—0. A fourth game, with conference rival Tipton, was cancelled because of rain. Two of the three losses came at the hands of Marion football teams. McCullough beat them 21—6 and Jones administered a 41—0 defeat. The third loss was to the Decatur "B" team which was victorious by a 20—0 score.

mathematical

Mathematics Department

The oft-times baffling world of numbers took on a new dimension for those enrolled in the Mathematics Department. Lowell Buzzard, departmental head, was assisted by nine teachers in unraveling the mysteries of interpolation, determinants, and identities. Each math classroom contained an overhead projector which helped in solving equations, deriving theorems, and demonstrating variations in graphs. By constant updating, the department tried to expose the students to the latest techniques. The curriculum offered general math, first year algebra, plane geometry, and second year algebra. For those students wishing to major in mathematics, trigonometry, analytical geometry, and an introduction to calculus were also included. Thus industrious students learned that pi has its place in the classroom as well as the kitchen.

Two hands are often better than one when geometric challenges are involved.

Seemingly jubilant at having discovered the correct procedure, advanced algebra student, Rick Conwell, explains the steps of the solution to his fellow classmates.

Science Department

A maze of chemicals, Mettler balances, and dissected animals provided opportunity for research and discovery in the HCCHS science department. Approximately eleven hundred students enrolled in the nine courses which were offered. In addition to classes in biology, chemistry, and physics, the department added four new courses: mammalian physiology, chemistry seminar, applied chemistry, and a second semester of earth science. Mammalian physiology and chemistry seminar replaced the old advanced chemistry and biology courses. In these classes students learned to analyze unknown substances and to apply their extensive knowledge of theory. To make chemistry more useful for those students without a strong math background, the department initiated three classes in applied chemistry. These classes were similar to regular chemistry, but involved less detailed work in mathematics and theory.

Future Homemakers

The next generation of Lady Bird Johnsons adopted a civic beautifying project of painting litter cans for the downtown area as one of their prime activities. Edith Hanson, the North Campus sponsor, and Mary Margaret Kelsey, the South Campus sponsor, planned an initiation in February for the incoming members. On April 24, the Future Homemakers of America staged a style show and a Mothers' Tea. Refreshments, made by the girls, were served with proper etiquette. The members modeled their own fashions which they had worked on during the previous weeks. To encourage a larger membership, an FHA Week was sponsored. The year was climaxed when three future Betty Crockers were engulfed by a gooey, man-eating meringue, as they screamed for Duncan Hines to turn off the oven.

Home Economics Department

Projects in the home economics classes ranged from preparing a seven course meal in 22 minutes to studying interior decorating. In the clothing division, girls learned to choose colors and styles becoming to their personalities. Sophomore and Junior seamstresses constructed blouses, skirts, and dresses, while Seniors tried their hands at suits and coats. The North Campus auditorium was the scene of the Spring Fashion Show where the students modeled their own designs. Nine-weeks sessions involved instruction in childcare, home nursing, pre-natal care, and management of time and money. During the final six weeks Seniors set up imaginary households by planning a budget, selecting furniture and carpets in various color schemes, and arranging the furnishings in their rooms.

Business Department

In an effort to supplement students' business education, the Business Department instituted a new program, Co-Operative Business Education (CO-OP) sponsored by Bruce Gerdes, which provided the students with a small but steady income as well as a basic learning of commercial enterprise. The 34 students enrolled in CO-OP attended their regular classes in the morning and worked in local business offices during the afternoon. By this arrangement and under the guidance of qualified instructors and employers, they applied their knowledge of business practices to practical situations. In addition to this new program, the department offered the usual courses as in previous years.

Future Retailers

Students interested in retailing and wholesaling enrolled in the distributive education classes. They received 15 hours of on-the-job training per week as well as credits and grades. All students working for merchants and firms under the program automatically became members of the Future Retailers' Club. The club, under the direction of Jerry Schwartz, sponsored the Donkey Basketball Game, a calendar sale, and a Christmas party for students enrolled in the special education classes at Lancaster Elementary School.

International Club

The computer-dance craze reached Huntington when the International Club sponsored a programmed dance, a first for the club and the school. Foreign exchange students Tom Leber, Maggie Briceno, and Helga Ragnarsdottier were escorted to an International Day at Tipton High School by Susan Troyer and Jean Thoma, sponsors. An auditorium program, part of International Week, featured the three visiting exchange students and those from the school that had traveled abroad the previous summer. During International Week, the final event of the year, club members placed displays and posters in the halls to encourage student support of the Exchange Program.

Girls' Athletic Association

This year the Girls' Athletic Association of HCCHS tried to provide its members with an opportunity to take part in activities for fun as well as for competition. Physical fitness, leadership, and co-operation were some of the goals of the girls. Interschool sports included softball, basketball, and track. Other organized games participated in were volleyball, bowling, and swimming. Two Faculty-Senior basketball games, in which both Faculty teams came out on top, were sponsored by the girls. Business meetings were held once a six weeks, and the girls met twice a week for their activities. This year a joint awards banquet was planned by the GAA girls of both campuses.

Junior Historical Society

The Junior Historical Society stressed giving students interested in history a better understanding of historical events in Huntington County and the State of Indiana. Members made a scrapbook of vanishing sites in Huntington County. The scrapbook consisted of pictures and articles about old churches, buildings, stores, mills, and graveyards and was submitted to the State organization for judging. Sponsors Helen Groff, Carl Swander, and Dale Ware aided club members in their project to clean and care for the displays and museum cases at the Huntington County Courthouse. At the end of the year a candidate was chosen to represent the club in the State convention at the Northwest High School in Indianapolis to get new ideas for a better club through contact with students from other clubs around the state.

English dept. experiments with team teaching

English Department

This year at HCCHS, the English Department initiated a new system of teaching. Some of the Junior students received their instruction in three levels, language, literature, and library science, with separate teachers for each level. This team teaching utilized equipment such as overhead and opaque projectors, tape recorders, and record players, one of which was presented as a graduation gift from last year's Senior class.

Students not participating in the new program followed the methods of outside reading books, grammar, composition, and class reports on authors and their works.

Audio Visual

Since few HCCHS students could visit Hawaii, Berkeley, or Rome, the audio visual department brought these places to them by the use of records, tapes, and films. Education is experiencing a "knowledge explosion" and the A-V department helped the students to learn more through indirect participation. Co-ordinator James Brandon and student projectionists helped teachers supplement their regular classroom activities by using audio-visual supplies.

Hobby Club

The Hobby Club provided students with opportunities to expand their own hobbies. It also gave them a chance to develop new hobbies and to appreciate the interests of others. Because of the wide variety of interests in the group, members met in one large unit instead of dividing into smaller groups with like interests. Meetings consisted of demonstrations put on by club members, faculty members, and representatives of local businesses. For one meeting, club sponsor Susan Anderson accompanied members on a trip to the Bircraft Company, where employees showed club members how to create plastic models of souvenirs.

Campus

The Campus staff covered the news from both North and South Campuses and distributed the paper weekly. They also sponsored HCCHS' first Homecoming, which they hoped would become a tradition of the school. Sports editor, Bill Briggs, crowned Edra Dinius the first Homecoming queen of HCCHS during halftime of the Huntington-Elwood game. At Christmas time, the Campus staff held a "Deck the Door" contest in which each homeroom decorated its door with original holiday ideas. First and second prizes were given in religious and secular categories at both North and South Campuses. Teachers with fourth period preparation judged the doors at North Campus, and the South Campus newspaper staff judged the doors at South.

This year's editor and the advisors were aided in their weekly race to beat deadlines by the page editors, reporters, and typists on the Campus staff. Distribution of the paper was made to subscribers and sold to non-subscribers by the Campus staff during lunch periods at North Campus and sixth period at South Campus. The graphic art classes assisted the Campus staff by printing the newspaper in the basement print shop for the second consecutive year.

Members of the South Campus staff are Glenda Cox, Jo Ziegler, Dee Ann Ulrich, John Ayres, Debbie Klopfenstein, Khris Buzzard, Marc Wilson, and Ann Steele.

Varsity Basketball

Marvin Tudor took over the reins of the Huntington Vikings for the 1967-68 season and once again the Vikes returned to the winning track. Huntington County's Vikings finished with a respectable 12—8 record, which included nine wins in their last 11 games. In the conference Huntington was third with a 4—3 mark. The Vikes split evenly in their first four games, including a one-point loss to Warsaw. Their record dipped to 2—5 after losses to Marion, Alexandria, and Hartford City. Huntington battled Marion without Bob Foster who had injured his knee against Elwood the night before. Huntington almost regained the title of their own Holiday Tournament but lost out to Penn 57—55. In the afternoon the Vikes knocked off New Haven 50—41. A three game winning streak after the holidays brought the Vikes up to .500 once again, this time at 6—6. During the win skein, conference foe Tipton was beaten 59—47. After a loss at Muncie Burris, Bluffton invaded Huntington. The Vikes were on top for three quarters but were spilled 76—71 as junior Phil Rich set a HCCHS scoring record with 32 points. Conference rivals Wabash and Peru were also beaten as the season drew to a close. Led by the scoring of Bob Foster the Vikes handed Ft. Wayne Central a 72—69 loss. Foster poured in 34 to erase the previous record. A 78—68 win over Manchester wound up the regular season. Hopes and plans for a trip to the regional came to an abrupt end as Northfield stopped Huntington 56—49 in the first game of the Huntington Sectional.

Freshman Basketball

The four Freshman teams of HCCHS turned in successful seasons for their coaches and fans. The teams, divided into White A and B, and Red A and B, amassed a 45—8 record altogether. The White A team had a 14—3 record, losing only to Concordia 39—32, Norwell 39—37, and Marion McCulloch 41—35. In a four-way tourney at South Campus the White A team finished third. Bob Feemster led the team in scoring for the year with an 8.9 scoring average. A 10—1 record was registered by the White B team. Their lone defeat was at the hands of Wabash, 34—31, in the final game of the year. Lynn Anthony was the leading scorer with a 9.6 average for the season.

The Frosh Red A completed the season with 11 wins and four losses. The four losses were administered by Oak Hill 49—47, Aboite 38—37, Warsaw 49—31, and Peru 44—42. Bob Stambazze's 10.5 points per game topped the scoring of the Red A's. The Red B squad posted an undefeated season, winning all ten of their contests. Their leading scorer was Jim Broderick with a 9.5 mark for the year.

"Campus News" was compiled by the journalism class and Campus staff and edited by the WVSH-FM staff in an attempt to inform people about the events at HCCHS. "Your Community and You" consisted of interviews with teachers and important persons in the area in order to acquaint the listeners with events in Huntington County.

Art Department

Juniors and Seniors who had not had the opportunity to take art before were given a good chance this past year. Classes emphasized drawing and painting so that students could leave with a basic skill. The instructors introduced to their students the many concepts of design. Stress was put on the principle of off-balance design in which the arrangement of objects is not exact. Beginning students worked on color mixing and contour drawing. The more advanced students experimented with plaster building, acrylics, and ceramics. Third year students, working independently, created silk screens and self-portraits.

Nurses, Speech and Hearing

Due to the daily barrage of students with upset stomachs, headaches, compass wounds, and imaginary diseases, the nurses office had many patients. A new feature was the addition of Grey Ladies, who relieved the registered nurses during noon hours at both Campuses. Student volunteers also aided the nurses by filing, delivering passes, and helping care for sick students. During the year the registered nurses tested students' vision and administered Tuberculin tests. Most Sophomores and new students heard the familiar "BEEP, BEEP" during hearing tests administered by Marjorie Bayless, speech and hearing therapist. Miss Bayless also instructed several classes for those with speech defects. These classes ranged from individual tutoring to instruction in groups of five.

Health and Physical Education Department

Getting caught in the shower during fire drill, getting locked out of class, and losing gym suits added the "spice of life" to some physical education periods. Through a program of individual, team, and recreation activities, the faculty of the Physical Education Department put into practice the new attitude in today's thinking—life time sports—which holds that skills learned in high school can be applied to the future everyday life of the student.

In keeping with the National Physical Fitness Program, students received a physical fitness skills test each semester. Intramural basketball for the boys and volleyball for the girls developed team spirit among the classes. In addition to the regular calisthenics, gymnastics, and team sports, students ran ten blocks to Kriegbaum Field to play softball and soccer, and to Memorial Park to play tennis during warmer weather.

Physical Education teachers at both North and South Campuses also instructed classes in health. This course provided a basis for other courses in physical education and science. The different functions of the body were examined as the students learned about anatomy in the course.

Social Studies Department

The Social Studies Department initiated two experimental classes in United States history this year which it hopes to continue and perhaps enlarge in the future. These courses were aimed at helping the students get a better understanding of history. Besides the required subjects of civics, economics, sociology, and United States history, HCCHS offered world geography, world history, and citizenship. Two new faces in the department were those of Marvin Tudor and James Kline, both of them U.S. history teachers. All of the teachers in the department received new swivel chairs and overhead projectors which were donated by the Senior class of 1967.

German Club

During its second year of existence, the German Club tried to bring an understanding of German culture to its members. To carry out this idea, Susan Troyer and Peggy Armstrong, the sponsors, invited Reverend Gary Forbes to present slides taken during his travels in East and West Germany, particularly in the city of Berlin. The main money-making project of the year was the Donkey Basketball Game at the community gym, in co-operation with the Future Retailers Club. The donkeys made it through the game all right, but the Senior boys and the faculty suffered one broken wrist and numerous bumps and bruises. One of the other club activities was the staging of three German plays: Little Red Riding Hood, The Night Before Christmas, and The Nativity.

Spanish Club

Volunteering an hour of their time each day, several North Campus Spanish Club members tried to give the children of migrant workers at Central Grade School a better speaking knowledge of English. The children learned from first-level books by hearing the Spanish sentence and then its English translation. Other activities of the North Campus club included staging a play, La Piñata, under the direction of sponsor Carol Paoletto and viewing slides that South Campus sponsor Ovidus Cuervo had taken in his native Cuba. Members of the South Campus club sponsored a roller skating party and attended a Spanish banquet which Mr. Cuervo planned. At the end of the year both clubs met for a Piñata Party with traditional Spanish games, dances and authentic piñata.

Foreign Language Department

The 33 students in two classes proved that Latin is dead at HCCHS. With the growing emphasis on modern languages, an increasing number of students enrolled in German, French, and Spanish classes. As a result of the increase, overflow Spanish classes were held in the cafeteria in the North Campus and two new Spanish teachers, Carol Paoletto and Robert Jarvis, were added to the department. German, which was added last year for the first time, proved so popular that two German II classes were added and a second teacher, Peggy Armstrong, was hired to teach additional first-year German classes at South Campus. Teachers in all the language courses completed the change to the Audio-Lingual Method this year. This is a new approach to language instruction, helping students associate words and their meanings, using co-ordinated filmstrips and tape lessons.

Industrial Arts

Courses in industrial arts ranged from building trades, which supervised construction of the two houses in the North Campus basement, to graphic arts which printed the Campus. Department time and money were saved when several metal shop students used their practical knowledge and skill to construct a turret tool. Students chose projects and worked on an individual basis with the instruction from eleven teachers. North and South Campus instructors introduced mass production to their classes. Boys in the advanced classes who showed high academic standing and leadership, earned a foreman credit. During the middle of the second semester, the mechanical drawing classes moved to a newly-furnished room in a nearby house that was converted into classrooms for the North Campus.

Masque and Gavel

"Too Much Mistletoe" invaded HCCHS during the Christmas season when it was performed by the North Campus Masque and Gavel drama group. For a week the cast kept busy preparing the one-act comedy for the school's Christmas program. At South Campus, a thirty member resident company competed for parts in the Masque and Gavel Christmas drama "Christmas Courier." These thirty students, along with a Board of Directors to rule the club, comprised their membership of about fifty. Both clubs had some promising talent revealed through the performance of short skits and plays during activity meetings. As a reward for their hard work, both drama groups made plans for club parties to highlight the end of the school year.

Library

Now containing 12,259 volumes, the library tried to meet the American Library Association standards which called for ten books per pupil. Students were given Honor Library Passes which entitled them to use many facilities: reading room, card catalog, Readers' Guide, 95 magazines (at least one magazine per department), three newspapers, vertical file, and dictionaries. During the last six-weeks, the library stayed open until 9:00 each night so that students could complete their term papers on time.

At the tea, a traditional part of the club activities, Carolyn Butt presented awards and certificates to the girls for their services in the library. As entertainment, Myran Corll gave several poetic readings and Carol Buchholz, a club member, presented a program of slides that she took while touring Europe the previous summer.

At Christmas time, members participated in a one-act comedy, La Veille de Noel, which they performed entirely in French. Three members of the club, Eric Harman, Joan McClure, and Jim Denney, participated in the Indiana University Honors Program. This involved a listening test and an interview before a board of examiners. Those students completing the test with high scores were given an opportunity to study French for two months in St. Brieuc, France.

Student Council

Arriving sleepy-eyed and yawning, Student Council members met every Tuesday morning at 7:15 to examine suggestions of the students and bring them to the attention of the faculty. The Council suggested and approved the new Alma Mater and purchased new flags for the North Campus auditorium. They also improved school exit signs, updated the dress code, obtained permission from the administration for students to go to their lockers at noon, painted over the Bearcats sign at South Campus, and rewrote the Student Handbook. At basketball games they collected money for the WOWO Penny Pitch and the Olympic Fund. Members kept a scrapbook of the events of the year and two officers attended an officers' convention at Indiana University during the previous summer. The year's activities ended with a dinner at the Sweden House.

team effort brings fame to Young's thinlies

Track

Great individual efforts along with total team strength and balance helped to bring Head Coach Jerry Young one of the most successful track teams of his career. Viking thinlies helped make the 1968 season a memorable one as they won the Lime City Relays and the Conference Meet. The only blot on a great season was a one-point loss to Marion in a triangular meet, which snapped a winning streak of 21 straight victories in dual and triangular competition. Tom Paoletto set a state high of 14—7 in the pole vault to win wide recognition. Allen Myers, Dick Hartley, Gary Goshorn, Tom Schenkel, and Rick Conwell dominated their various running events.

Tennis

At the time of this writing Huntington County High's tennis team was making a strong bid for a top place in the CIC standings. The team, under the leadership of Wayne Kreiger, was made up of five Seniors, three of which won major letters last year. A noticeable improvement, due to experience, was quite evident as they had won more matches than the previous year's team. In the conference the Viking netters had compiled a 4—1 record, losing only to Muncie Burris. Conference matches with Alexandria and Peru were yet to be played. Hartford City was the first conference victim, being defeated 7—0. In their second conference outing, the Vikes were defeated by a talented Muncie Burris squad 6—1. They ran their CIC record to 4—1 by then beating Tipton, Wabash, and Elwood. Defeats were also dealt to the Vikings by Logansport, Manchester (twice), and a tough team from Ft. Wayne South Side. With the loss of his five Seniors, Coach Wayne Kreiger will once again be faced with another rebuilding year.

The talent of the HCCHS golf team remained hidden during much of the first half of the season, allowing some prospective victories to slip from their grasp. Coach Marvin Tudor's boys really showed what they were capable of, however, as they captured the CIC golf title. Monte Barnes tied for medalist honors with a 77, only to lose in a sudden-death playoff. The balance of the Vikes 319 total was comprised of Joe Musser's 80, and 81's by Rick Maples and Dave Laymon. Elwood was second, seven strokes back with a 326.

Baseball

Huntington County's Viking baseball team was almost assured of at least a .500 season in 1968. With only four games remaining in the regular season the Vikes had a respectable record of six wins and three loses. Coach Paul Buzzard greeted eleven lettermen in the early spring, forming the nucleus of the 1968 team. In the first nine games the Vikes got revenge against Muncie Central 5—4, with a second game yet to be played. Shutouts were registered over South Adams and Warsaw. The biggest winning margin for the Vikes was a 10—1 trouncing of the Bluffton Tigers. The always tough Marion Giants dumped the Vikes 10—1 for their worst defeat. Concordia and Bellmont shutout the Vikes by scores of 2—0 and 5—0 respectively.

Sunshine Society

From the day of their candlelight initiation as Freshmen to the day of their Senior Mother-Daughter Breakfast, members of the Sunshine Society set a goal of service to others. With the aid of 24 key girls, members participated in such activities as Christmas caroling at the Old Folk's Home, planning religious programs for the student body at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter, and sponsoring the countywide Easter Sunrise Service at the Methodist Chruch. Under the guidance of Alice Sell and Helen Kreiger the members also sponsored the Harvest and Sweetheart Dances.

teachers' varied duties never end

Faculty

Selling tickets, supervising extra-curricular activities, and acting as club sponsors filled part of the faculty's after-school hours. During school several teachers migrated from room to room because lack of space necessitated the use of rooms each period. When not teaching, instructors relaxed in the teacher's lounge. Surrounded by coffee cups and ungraded papers, they made up tests, corrected assignments, and collected their wits for the next class. The Spring Faculty Banquet climaxed the year's events for North and South Campus faculty members.

Custodians

The everyday world of constant mopping, sweeping and general pick-up filled the days of the maintenance staff of HCCHS. Besides their regular duties, the custodians acted as fleet-footed messengers, delivery men and vigilant hall monitors. The janitors' jobs started bright and early at 6:00 a.m. and were usually finished around 10:00 p.m., working on Saturdays and even during students' vacations. During the Christmas vacation, the maintenance staff of North Campus painted the studyboards and varnished the seats in the auditorium. South Campus' staff did the usual tasks of waxing the flobrs and cleaning classrooms. Both staffs took their well deserved rest periods in the custodians lounges, which are equipped with television, left-over furniture and the omnipresent coffee pot.

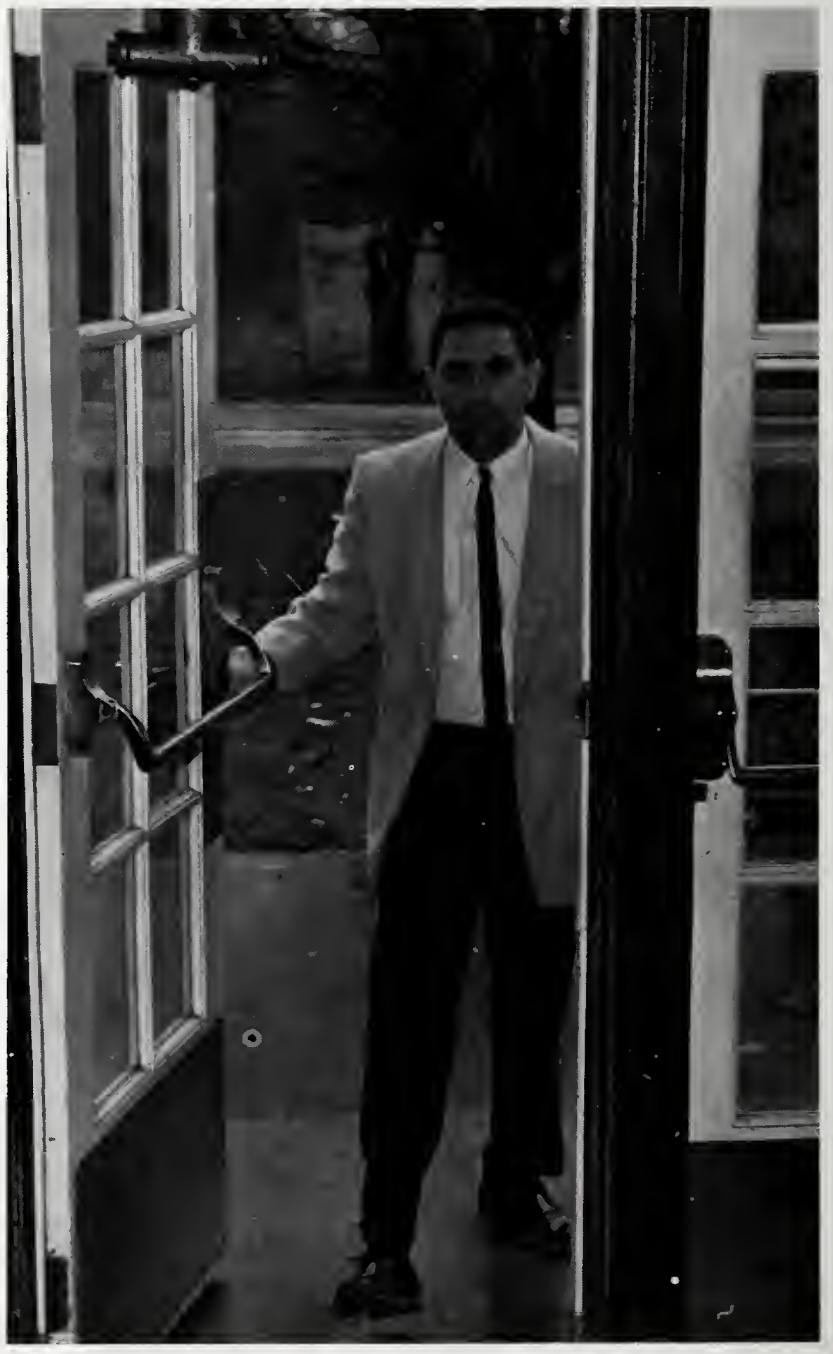
Opening the doors for the class of '71 are officers Jetty Stroup, treasurer; John Gay, vice-president; Ann Gibboney, secretary; and John Ayres, president.

Freshman Class

Anxiety, confusion, and the excitement of being in high school marked the first day at South Campus for 560 Freshmen. Early in the fall the "greenies" elected their class officers, with Mr. Norman Knight as their sponsor. They also formed one football and four basketball teams which were named "Frosh Red" and "Frosh White." They divided the basketball teams according to the elementary schools the players had attended. During the year both the Freshman band and the Freshman choir presented concerts at South Campus, and in the spring they staged a class party and a class dance. By the end of the year all the anxiety they had felt in August was forgotten and the Freshmen remembered meeting new friends, yelling themselves hoarse at pep rallies, and scurrying to make it to class before the last bell sounded.



Supervising the entrance of the Freshman class through the opened doors of HCCHS is sponsor Kenneth Knight.

experienced sophs advance to "second-class" rating

Looking over the selection of class rings are officers Dan Killen, John Underhill, Lenny Poehler, Carol Rich, Karen Snyder, Tom Cowden, Betsy Bilyew, and Judy Oden.

Sophomore Class

With the excitement of no longer being a greenie, the Sophomores settled into the everyday routine of high school life. Being divided between two campuses created mixed feelings among the class members. Most sophs favored scheduling at least one course at the North Campus in order to fraternize with the upper classmen.

The highlight of the year centered around the annual arrival of Mr. George who fitted class rings. The rings had been selected earlier in the year by the two sets of class officers and their sponsors, Colleen Gibboney and Richard Morrison.

Junior class looks forward to a year of selling, planning, and decorating

Making early plans for the Senior Prom are class officers, Beth Myers, secretary; Gary Goshorn, president; Linda Davis, treasurer; and Tom Schenkel, vice-president.

Hardworking Junior sponsors Jerry Baker and Riva Rethlake survey the apparatus that is needed to make a successful year for the money-making project of the class.

Junior Class

The fall Junior class elections named Gary Goshorn, president; Tom Schenkel, vice president; Beth Myers, secretary; and Linda Davis, treasurer, as this year's officers. As in previous years, selling concessions at the football and basketball games constituted the main Junior activity. The start of the second semester turned thoughts toward preparations for the Junior Morp, with the theme of "Flower Power," on April 26 and the Senior Prom, "Idylls of the King" on May 10. Other activities that filled the year of the Class of 1969 were varsity sports, school clubs, outside jobs, paper and yearbook staffs, and of course classes. The year was seen happily to an end by the sponsors, Riva Rethlake and Jerry Baker.

"flower power" blossoms at Junior Party

For weeks the Junior Class worked hard to raise the money for the Senior Prom and their party. This year the class decided to have their own prom only in reverse, in other words, a "morp." Dressed in cutoffs and culottes, Juniors and their guests were surrounded by a psychedelic atmosphere. Entertainment was provided by "The Chosen Few" and two local folk groups.

"We should have danced all night," sung by Dan Schmalried, lyrics by Sandy Kitt.

Seniors hold up walls of HCCHS

Senior Class

With the election of their officers, the Senior class began their final year of high school. Chosen to lead their electors were Bob Derr, president; Don McDaniel, vice-president; Barb Watson, secretary; and Linda Heffelfinger, treasurer.

During the year, class meetings were held to make plans for graduation. It was decided to have baccalaureate and commencement at Kriegbaum Field. As anticipation of graduation grew, Seniors voted as their class motto, "Knowledge is the key to the gate of success." The sterling silver rose was selected as the class flower, and lavender and silver were chosen as class colors.

Candidates ran for Senior queen with ticket sales for the play, Stranger in the Night, which was presented in the early spring. Other spring activities included the Senior Prom, "Idylls of the King," followed by the Postprom party, "Senior-Daze Laugh Inn."

The night before commencement, Seniors had their final get-together at Hiers Park. On May 24, nearly five hundred students made up Huntington County Community High School's graduating class of '68.

Watching Senior play rehearsal are Vern Coy and Max Fordyce, Senior class sponsors.

Add pleasure to outdoor living with GAS LIGHTS and a GAS GRILL

A softly glowing gas light adds enchantment to your yard, porch, driveway or patio.

With a gas barbecue grill, the permanent, self-cleaning ceramic briquets are glowing, ready for cooking in minutes. No bothersome charcoal. No messy clean-up.

Add zest and fun to outdoor family living with a gas light and a gas grill.

Your best source of dependable fuel oil supply!

A big advantage for you and your school is the size of Allied Oil Company. Allied is one of the largest marketers of fuel oil in the nation. No contract is too large for Allied to fulfill—or too small.

We have a storage and transport system that makes use of lake tankers, river barges, tank cars and truck transports . . . serving the entire mid-west. Our people are fuel oil specialists.

Result: Allied products always meet your exact requirements. In addition, Allied's technical advice can reduce your maintenance and fuel costs. So it's sound counsel to get Allied's price, before contracting for next year's fuel supply. Your letter, wire or call will receive prompt and detailed reply.

The Senior Class presented the gift of colored pictures used throughout the book to the 1968 DEKA.

The End

A yearbook is a strange sort of creature, producing pages from thoughts and ideas. It is a combination of meeting (and missing) deadlines, watching a talented photographer working on still-life pictures, and battling with a stubborn advisor over the famous beer can picture. It's also devouring birthday cakes smuggled into school, covering up for darkroom escapades, and working fifteen hours one day at school before a deadline. More importantly, it is an attempt to produce a book that is informal, original—and above all, creative.

The basis for the theme of this year's DEKA is found in a quote from Scripture that assigns a time and season to everything. The academics, activities, and athletics of HCCHS cannot be separated into individual segments, for they function together as a unity. A seasonal division seemed to us a more logical way of presenting an over-all picture of a school year. With many seasons of unique and challenging moments for future generations at HCCHS, we, the co-editors, have found the answer to the question:

What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboureth?
Ecclesiastes 3:9
